

Henry H. Haynor
Saratoga County, NY to Ionia County, MI

by Ed Haynor
July 2020

Testing conducted by Family Tree DNA compared 37 markers in the DNA profile (Y-DNA) of Hayner Family Association Past President Clifford Nichols Hayner II, who is a confirmed descendent of Johannes Häner, who came to America as a Palatine refugee in 1709/10, to that of two confirmed Haynor males in the line of Henry H. Haynor. This author was one of those tested. The results of the testing indicated that Henry H. Haynor's line shares a common ancestor with Johannes Häner, since one Henry Haynor male descendant matches 34/37 markers and the other descendant matches 33/37 markers. Who that ancestor was and when and where he lived is unknown, therefore, unproven. But because there were three and four marker differences between Henry Haynor descendants and Clifford Nichols Hayner II, it's possible that this common ancestor lived in Germanic Europe rather than in North America.

The following is the latest information that is verifiable or what research has uncovered on the Henry H. Haynor ancestry and his descendants.

HENRY H. HAYNOR was 90 years, six months and four days old when he died according to State of Michigan Death Records. A "Certified Copy of Record of Death" showing his surname misspelled as "Hayner" indicates he died on 22 August 1890. In Henry's obituary, spelled as Haynor, in the newspaper, the "Ionia Standard," dated 15 August 1890, states he died on 7 August 1890 in Orleans Township, Ionia County, MI. The Henry Haynor name and 7 August 1890 date of death is also confirmed in the Portrait and Biographical Album of Ionia and Montcalm Counties, MI, published in 1891. It's believed the 22 August 1890 date is when descendants reported it, when it was officially recorded, or when he was buried, not his death date, since his funeral was conducted 9 August 1890 at the home of his son, Isaac B. Haynor in Easton Township, Ionia Co., MI. This would make Henry born on or very near 3 February 1800.

Although according to Haynor lore, Henry was born around 1793, which is indicated on his headstone. According to various U.S. Census data, he could have been born between 1790 and 1800, in 1800, 1801, 1802, 1805 or 1806.

In the marriage record between Henry Haynor and Matilda Ward, his second wife, found in Michigan Marriages, 1822-1995, at: <https://www.familysearch.org/ark:/61903/1:1:FCRH-RHM>, it's shown that Henry Haynor surname misspelled as "Haynes," age 48 years from the town of Easton, Ionia County, MI and Mrs. Matilda Ward, age 26 years also from the town of Easton, Ionia County, MI, were joined together in holy matrimony, 24 November 1853, in the town of Easton, Ionia County, MI, in the presence of William Ward and James R. Parker, both of Easton, Ionia County, MI – George Bignell, Minister.

So, it appears as though there are at least three recorded birth dates of Henry H. Haynor; near 1793, by descendants of Henry's, likely his grandchildren, as shown on his headstone; 1800, as you subtract his age of 90 years, 6 months and 4 days old from Henry's death date record of 1890; and 1805, as Henry was listed as 48 years old in 1853 when he married Matilda Ward. So, using records available, there is a birth date record span of 13 years, from 1793 to 1806.

Although every available U.S. or Michigan Census state that Henry was born in NY State, some family members feel that Henry may have been born in Pennsylvania. In an undated handwritten letter from Mary Elizabeth (Libbie) Haynor, wife of Albert Clements Haynor (C3-1.2.2.1) she states, "Henry Haynor was born in Pennsylvania, his father's name was Abram Haynor, he was Holland Dutch coming with a colony to settle in Pennsylvania. Henry went up to Saratoga Co., New York State, when a young man he married Roxy Clements a resident of Saratoga."

It is believed that Henry was one of several sons of Abram or possibly Abraham Haynor. It's also believed by many that Henry H. Haynor's middle name was Hudson. There is no verifiable knowledge of Henry's mother's name. Although it's unknown and unconfirmed who exactly was Henry's father, other than the first name of Abram, that Henry himself stated, the only candidate with the first name of "Abram" and the last name of "Haynor," which birth date is before and in a range allowing him to be the father of Henry H. Haynor is an "Abram Haynor" found in the 1840 U.S. Census, living in Blenheim, Schoharie, Co., NY, born between 1780-90.

The earliest reference in North America to the surname "Haynor" is found in the name of William Haynor, first to Virginia, then later found in Salem, MA in 1660, 50 years before Johannes Häner's arrival in 1709/10 shown as follows in five publications:

(1) Genealogical Guide to the Early Settlers of America with a Brief History of Those of the First Generation, Vol. 2, by Henry Whittemore, published in 1924.

(2) Americana, Volume 15, published by the National Americana Society in 1921, under the headline, "Ancestral Heads of New England Families."

(3) A genealogical dictionary of the first settlers of New England, by Savage, James, 1784-1873; "Making of America Project," Farmer, John, 1789-1838; Dexter, O. P. (Orrando Perry), 1854-1903, first published in 1860.

(4) Annals of Salem, by Joseph B. Felt, Vol. 2, 2nd edition, 1849.

(5) Directory of the Ancestral Heads of New England Families, 1620-1700, author Frank Holmes, New York, American historical Society, 1923.

The William Haynor found in Salem, MA, lists only him and no one else. It is believed this William Haynor, since listed alone with no family, is an indentured servant (see https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Indentured_servitude), about 14 years old, living in Salem, MA in 1660, since his trade is listed as a "tailor." According to <https://www.pbs.org/opb/historydetectives/feature/indentured-servants-in-the-us/>, one-half to two-thirds of the immigrants who came to the American colonies arrived as indentured servants between the 1630s and the American Revolution. In the 17th century, most indentured servants were of English origin and migrated to the Chesapeake (present day Virginia and Maryland). Of the 120,000 emigrants to the Chesapeake during this era, roughly 90,000 arrived as bound laborers, according to <https://www.oxfordbibliographies.com/>.

Between the years 1646, when William was born throughout the 1650s, this was the time of incredible turmoil in the British Isles, known as the English Civil Wars. Between 1649, when England's King Charles I was executed, then when Oliver Cromwell forcibly dissolved Parliament in 1653 and was appointed Lord Protector of England, and when Charles II was restored to the throne in May 1660, was a very difficult time for British Isle citizens. It is believed that a William Haynor, found in England at ancestry.com, born about 1620, arranged for his son, also named William, born in 1646 to become an indentured servant and possibly another son Thomas too, who was born in 1649, to go to the American British Colonies to start a new life, since a child's prospects in England during that time would be few and their lives would be in constant danger.

The spelling of the Haynor surname, is a British Isle spelling, particularly found in England, also in Ireland, not Germany, recorded at least by the late 1500s/early 1600s. It's very likely Henry Haynor's ancestors somehow traveled from Northern Europe to the British Isles before coming to America. The Ionia, MI community of where Henry H. Haynor settled in about 1838, coming from Saratoga, NY, was primarily an English, Irish and Scottish settlement, not German. There is no evidence of any German-related use or customs passed on through Haynor family generations, including any listing in German-related churches; German family or other German-related records, although many of these German records are quite meticulous; or Haynor ancestors speaking the German language. The surname Haynor, found in the British Isles, also spelled as Hainoure (Domesday Book of 1086), Heanor, Hennor and Heynor appears to have had a history that leads at least back before the era of Roman rule in Great Britain, see <https://forebears.io/england/herfordshire> and file:///C:/Users/Owner/Downloads/p16445coll4_112555.pdf.

If the Henry Haynor line is not descended from the Abram Haynor listed above and/or the William Haynor found in Salem, MA in 1660, then it's possible that Henry is descended from one of two grandsons of Johannes Häner, named Abraham found in the "Hayner Family Association History Book" as follows:

#47 Abraham Hanor, b. b/t 1752/57 (not traced), or
#71 Abraham Hener, bp 6 October 1763. Although this Abraham has been traced with his children identified; none named Henry.

The following persons have been found with a Haynor-type surname who could be Henry's father, if in fact, he is not descended from one of the ancestral lines listed above, as follows:

- * Abraham Humer/Huner, 1810 Census, Warwick, Lancaster Co., PA, b. in or before 1765.
- * Abraham Henery, 1810 Census, Northampton, Northampton Co., PA, b. in or before 1765.
- * Abraham Henard, 1810 Census, New Milford, Luzerne Co., PA, b. b/t 1766-1784.
- * Abm Hener, 1810 Census, Botetourt, VA, b. b/t 1766-1784.
- * Abraham Haener, 1830 Census, Bedminster, Bucks Co., PA, b. b/t 1760-70.

An Abraham Haner also has been identified born in the British Isles that would meet the timeline of being Henry H. Haynor's father, if Henry was indeed born around 1793. This Abraham Haner was christened 25 December 1736 in Essex, England and found at: <https://familysearch.org/pal:/MM9.1.1/XKDS-RPR>. The birth year of this Abraham is within the projected time frame of 1735-1770 in order to be Henry's father, if Henry was born near 1793. Some Palatine refugees, who made it to Britain in the early 1700s, chose to stay there, rather than go on to the Colonies during this time. Research has shown that many persons with the surname of Haner of various spellings were living in the British Isles during the 18th century. Of course, for this Abraham Haner to be Henry's father, it would first need to be proven that he immigrated to America before the time of Henry's birth. No other information has been found on this English Abraham Haner.

If Henry is not descended from a person listed above, it's possible that Henry's father Abram, may have been born in America. If this was the case, it's possible it was Henry's grandfather or great grandfather who was the one immigrating to America from Europe. For instance, a Johannos Haynor/Hayner, was found who immigrated to America in 1752, aboard the ship Forest from Rotterdam (the Netherlands), last being in Portsmouth (England) to Philadelphia, could be a direct ancestor of the Henry Haynor ancestry in America. But if Abram was born in America, then other Haner men of various spellings who immigrated through this same pathway would also have to be considered as shown on the Hayner Family Association website at:
http://www.haynerfamily.org/Page_11.html.

The following stories, many handed down from generation to generation within the Haynor family, about Henry Haynor and his ancestors in America, are described below:

- * A tradition passed down by Alice (Haynor) Bull (C4-1.2.1.5) is that Abram Haynor, Henry's father was a German mercenary and England refused to transport Hessian soldiers (prisoners) back home after the Revolutionary War. Haynor family researchers have been unable to verify that Abram Haynor or any person named Abraham Haner of various spellings was in fact a Hessian or mercenary soldier. The Hessians were 18th-century German auxiliaries contracted for military service by the British government, which found it easier to borrow money to pay for their service than to recruit its own soldiers. About 30,000 German soldiers fought for the British during the American Revolutionary War. Nearly half were from the Hesse region of Germany; the others came from similar small German states.

The following list of persons primarily named "Heiner" as it was commonly spelled in Germany who fought as Hessian Soldiers on the side of England in the Revolutionary War. The list has been compiled from a variety of ancestry websites, particularly the Hessian Regional History Information System (LAGIS) at: <http://lagis.online.uni-marburg.de/>. A Conrad was found as well on this site, although his surname is spelled as Hainert. Conrad Hainert and Konrad Heiner could be the same person listed below since they appear to be both born (1740) and died in the same year (1776).

- (1) Conrad Hainert, b. 1740, d. 1776 of disease, by accident or other non-battle causes. Conrad was a Grenadier and served under von Minnigerode.
- (2) Henrich Heiner, of Oberbeisheim, b. 1751/1752, d. unknown, appointed 1775. Henry was a Private in DON 5 (von Donop Regiment, after 1784 von Knyphausen Regiment). Of this list, Henrich Heiner is the only known Hessian soldier, with a Haner surname, who stayed in America. He gave a loyalty oath and resided in Maryland. He went by the name of Henry Hinea, b. 22 Feb. 1752, d. 22 Sept. 1824, as shown in Haughs Cemetery, Laingsburg, Maryland.
- (3) Heiner (unknown first name), of Loehlbach, b. 1755/1756, d. unknown, appointed 1775. This unknown Heiner was a Fusilier and served with DIT 5 (von Dittfurth Regiment).

- (4) Jakob Heiner, of Wolferode, b. 1751/1752, d. unknown. 1st Appointment, 5/1776: GRF 2 (Köhler Grenadier Battalion, after 1778 Graf, after 1782 Platte). 2nd Appointment, 2/1783: GRF 2 (Köhler Grenadier Battalion). Jakob was listed as a Grenadier and Carpenter.
- (5) Konrad Heiner, of Niederbeisheim, b. 1740/1741, d. 6/1776 of disease, accident, or other non-battle causes. Konrad was a Grenadier, age 34, appointed in 1775 with MNG 2 (von Minnigerode Grenadier Battalion).
- (6) Jacques Heiner. Arrived in New York in 1782. Not much is known about Jacques Heiner, other than he was found listed in a publication authored by Clifford Neal Smith, named Muster Rolls and Prisoner-of-War Lists in American Archival Collections Pertaining to the German Mercenary Troops Who Served with the British Forces during the American Revolution. (German- American Genealogical Research Monograph, 3, in three pts.) DeKalb, IL: Westland Publications, 1974-1976. 177p. (Pt. 1, pp. 1-64; pt. 2, pp. 65-119; pt. 3, pp. 120-177.)
- (7) Heinrich Heiners, b. 1756, arrived in 1778, Quebec, Canada. Heinrich Heiners is listed with Mercenary Troops from Anhalt-Zerbst, Germany, Who Served with the British Forces during the American Revolution. (German-American Genealogical Research Monograph, 19.) McNeal, Ariz.: Westland Publications, 1984. 2 vols., authored by Virginia Easley Demarce. Rank unknown and it's believed he did not participate in any battles.

Two other persons named Heiner, without first names, are listed as Hessian Troops, according to (LAGIS) and remained in Europe because of illness.

Alice (Haynor) Bull's contention that Abram Haynor was a Hessian soldier at this time has no basis in fact, since no verification can be found. In defense of Alice (Haynor) Bull, the Haynor family, regardless of spelling report a prior existence in Germany, before some lived in the British Isles, likely many from the State of Hesse located in southwestern Germany and surrounding areas. Knowing that, possibly our ancestors mistook a person from Hesse, known as a Hessian, as meaning a Hessian soldier, rather than just being known as a Hessian, because they happen to be born near Hesse, Germany. It's also possible that Henry H. Haynor descendants learning of a person or persons known as Henry Heiner fighting in the Revolutionary War, would have known that this could not have been Henry H. Haynor because he had not been born yet and then mistakenly assumed it must have been Henry's father, Abram.

- * Some Haynor descendants have implied that Abraham Haynor was a prisoner during the Revolutionary War and was incarcerated in a prison near Syracuse, but this has never been proven. There was though a confirmed Haynor imprisoned. Captain Roger Haynor, was listed in a letter to George Washington from Arthur St. Clair on 26 March 1780 at: <http://founders.archives.gov/?q=Haynor&s=1111311111&sa=&r=1&sr=>, where it describes Roger Haynor and other colonial soldiers in a List of American Officers Prisoners of War allowed to be Unexceptionable. The letter is also signed by "Ed. Carrington Lt Colo., Artillery; and Alex. Hamilton, Lt Col. (see https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Alexander_Hamilton)" Since using the word, "unexceptionable" in describing Roger Haynor as a prisoner of war in the above document, then apparently, the authors of this letter to George Washington, did not have any dispute that those who were listed, were in fact, prisoners of war. If Roger Haynor's surname is "Haynor," as opposed to Haner or Hayner, might confirm with what some Haynor ancestors have believed, that Henry H. Haynor did in fact have at least one earlier ancestor or relative who was indeed a prisoner of war in the Revolutionary War.

- * Some Haynor descendants suggest that an Abram Haynor was listed in the Revolutionary War pension lists, but this has never been proven.
- * An Abram Haynor of the Henry Haynor C. Line Ancestry may have been born in the Alsace-Lorraine region of France since this area was an enclave of ethnic Germans and the region has changed hands several times between France and Germany over the course of history. Although this has never been proven, an Abraham Hoener was found on familysearch.org. He was christened on 13 June 1765 at Evangelish, Wald Solingen, Rheinland, Prussia. This Abraham Hoener's father's name was Wilhelm Hoener, who was christened on April 8 1721 after being born on 6 April 1721. Wilhelm's father's name was Georg. No other information was found on this Georg Hoener. For this Abraham Hoener to be a verified finding as possibly being the father of Henry Haynor, it would have to be proven that he immigrated to America before 1800. As of this writing, no such record has been found.
- * Some family members believed the Henry Haynor ancestry was of Dutch heritage and may have been born in the Netherlands and emigrated to the colonies in the mid/late 1700s. It's believed these Haynor family members may be misinterpreting the word "Dutch" as of Dutch heritage from Holland or the Netherlands. In Abram's time, "Dutch" was a broader term that meant what we today call Flemish, Dutch, or German. The terms "High Dutch" (German) and "Low Dutch" (Dutch) were used to make a clearer distinction between what we now call German (from Latin) or Dutch (from Old High German). Since the Netherlands and Germany share a border, it's possible that the Henry Haynor ancestry, is descended from a Haynor born in the Netherlands, but it's never been proven. The other confusion with the Netherlands is that a very large number of immigrants coming to America in the 17th and 18th Centuries came by way of Rotterdam, a port city located in the Netherlands, to America. So, it would be easy to misinterpret someone leaving Rotterdam as their former home, when in actuality these immigrants came from greater Europe trekking their way to Rotterdam to leave by this port city.
- * Some family members contend that two Haynor brothers were conscripted into the British Armed Services, such as the British Royal Navy, during the 1700s possibly during the time of the Revolutionary War or early 1800s. Some think that one brother might have been Henry's father Abram. If Abram, after jumping ship in America, he escaped; therefore, the mystery of his whereabouts. Some feel the other brother was captured and sentenced to a British penal colony in Australia, never to be heard of again. Evidence has been uncovered that seems to substantiate a story about conscription or because a story such as this could have been changed through generations of storytelling, from an actual story about Haynors being convicted of a crime to a conscription story, or even the possibility that both conviction and conscription stories might intertwine and are both true. If a person or persons were conscripted into the British Military it appears that John and James Haynor, born in the late 1700s, living in the British Isles in the early 1800s would be the candidates. Research shows that both appeared to be arrested in England, each serving time on a convict hulk (floating prison/jail). Both appeared to be arrested again and were to be transported by convict ships to penal colonies in Australia, but for whatever reason, neither was found arriving in Australia. So, there is evidence about two Haynors, but not an Abram, possibly brothers, being convicted of petty crimes or held as civilian internees (detained by England for war security reasons) then either given tickets of leave agreeing never to live in the British Isles again or possibly conscripted (a form of last resort enlistment) into military service to avoid being sent to a penal colony in Australia has merit. Research on John and James Haynor and other Haners of various spellings who are possible players in this story where a series of events such as this, could have been learned and passed down to Henry Haynor or his descendants. Knowing that English John and James Haynor were at least convicted of petty crimes or were held as war internees, and maybe given a ticket of leave or conscripted into military service and if any one of them made it to North America that person could be James Hainor, since he was listed in the 1842 Canadian Census and born at the right time period between 1783-1792. If a Haynor brother or close relative of James Haynor was never heard from again, as Haynor lore suggests, it could be English John Haynor, who experienced a similar plight as James being convicted of petty crimes or held as war internee, and maybe given a ticket of leave or conscripted into military service, because a John Haynor was found buried in England, born 1781, died in 1857, which complies with the necessary time period. The reason he might not have been heard from again, was because he never made it to North America, died in England and was buried there, although James may have thought he must have been transported to Australia, since he also shared a similar plight.

- * Several Haynor Family Trees on the Internet suggest that Henry's father, Abram was born around 1761 and died on 2 August 1847 in Columbia Co., NY State. Additional research on this Abram Haynor shows the spelling of his last name as "Hayner" and that his parent's name as Sebastian A. and Lany Ann Hayner. The aforementioned Abram Hayner, son of Sebastian A. Hayner and Lanna Ann Bulson, is #1620 in the Hayner Family History Book. He was born on 3 July 1847 and died in infancy on 2 August 1847. So, as far as these listings regarding an Abram Haynor born in 1761 and dying in 1847 are concerned as shown on various Haynor Family Trees posted on the Internet, are not true, since research shows otherwise.
- * Directly related to the Abram Hayner in the above paragraph, it has been reported among family members, shown on various Haynor Family Trees on the Internet and recorded in the Supplement to the Third Edition to the Hayner Family history Book titled, "A Haner/Hayner Family in America," published earlier in 2014, that an Abby Jane, born about 1766 and died on 14 October 1854 was the wife of the above Abram Hayner. This person is actually Abigail Jane Hayner #1735 listed in the original Hayner Family History Book, daughter of Sylvester and Betsey A. (Freiot) Hayner, born on 22 July 1837 and died on 14 October 1854, just over 17 years old. She is buried in Pittstown in New Cooksboro (Maplewood) Cemetery. It is not possible that this Abby Jane who died in 1854 or the Abram Hayner who died in infancy in 1847 could possibly be the parents of Henry H. Haynor.
- * An "Abraham Haynor" was discovered making a financial contribution to the establishment of the Methodist Episcopal Church of Rock City Falls in the History of Saratoga County, New York. The history written in 1878 is about the Church's establishment in about 1844. It's possible this Abraham is Henry's father Abram, since Henry H. Haynor was married in 1824 to Roxie Clements in Saratoga County, NY. If the Haynor family had any consistent church membership in the early years of America, the Methodist Church appears to be the church of choice. Henry Haynor was one of the first settlers in Ionia County, MI in about 1838 and "was a valued member of the Methodist Episcopal Church" as stated in the 1891 edition of the Portrait and Biographical Album of Ionia and Montcalm Counties. It's interesting that Methodism has its roots in eighteenth century Anglicanism. Its founder was a Church of England minister, John Wesley (1703-1791), who sought to challenge the religious assumptions of the day.

It's also possible that the Abraham Haynor making a financial contribution as stated above is Abraham #47 or #71, from the Hayner Family History Book. If so, one or both Abrahams if still alive, would have been born between 1750-60 and probably well into their 80s, if not 90s in 1844. Knowing this, it might be more likely the Abraham making the church donation is the one discovered in the 1840 Census living in Blenheim, Schoharie Co., NY, if he moved from Schoharie County to Saratoga County before 1844 or was just visiting. Being born near 1780, would make him about age 64 in 1844, making it much more likely he was still living at this time. It's also possible that this Abraham might be another Abraham Haynor listed in the 1840 Census, Milton, Saratoga, NY, b. b/t 1810-20, although census reports his name as Abraham Hayner. It's possible that both Abraham Haners #47 & #71 are still alive in 1844, both living in Saratoga County, one as Abraham Haynor and the other as Abraham Hayner. It is also possible that a "younger" Abraham making a church donation in 1844 is the son of an "older" Abraham, particularly a possibility, if it's #47, since he hasn't been traced.

Generation 1

(C1-1.0) HENRY H. HAYNOR, m. (1) Roxy M. Clements, 14 January 1824, Saratoga County, NY, b. 1809 in Saratoga County, NY, d. 13 February 1845, Easton Township, Ionia County, MI. Roxy was the daughter of Albert C. Clements, b. 24 October 1782, NY, d. 29 July 1878, NY and wife Annatya (Hannah) Van Etten (confirmed through DNA matching), b. 16 September 1785, Center Brunsbrun, Brunswick, Rensselaer Co., NY, d. 5 August 1868, Saratoga, Saratoga Co., NY, daughter of Johannes Dehooges Van Etten, b. 24 January 1762, Schenectady, Schenectady Co., NY; d. unknown and Geertruy Gerritsen, b. abt. 1756, New York, British, Colonial, America, d. unknown.

Henry m. (2) Matilda H. Ward, last name also known as Burner (maiden name), Baker or Munger, 24 November 1853 in Ionia, MI, b. abt. 1828 in Tennessee, d. 1 May 1881, Saranac, MI. Matilda was the daughter of Isaac Green Burner, b. 24 September 1784, d. 7 July 1860, Abington, Knox Co., IL and Susannah Cummins, b. 15 March 1786, South Carolina, d. 22 May 1855, Knox, Knox Co., IL.

In 1824 Henry was living in the Victory Mills/Schuylerville, New York area, where he married Roxy M. Clements. Albert Clements, the father of Roxy, and his parent's family had moved to the Victory Mills area from Dutchess County, NY in about 1788-89 when Albert was very young. Readers should note that Victory Mills was not incorporated until 1848, although the area may have been known simply as "Victory" in recognition of the American Revolutionary War victory during the battles in Saratoga.

According to Haynor lore, Henry and Roxy Haynor moved to Michigan in about 1837, traveling by the Erie Canal to Buffalo, NY, then by ship across Lake Erie to Detroit. For a short time, they lived in Washtenaw County, MI, likely with Roxy's uncle John Peter Clements. Around 1838 Henry and family moved to Ionia Township, Ionia County, MI, by Conestoga wagon by driving northwest to Ionia County, 30 miles east/northeast of Grand Rapids, MI. Henry alone, may have traveled to the Ionia area as early as 1836, when land sales in Michigan peaked, see http://geo.msu.edu/extra/geogmich/michigan_fever.html.

According to the Ionia County MI History & Genealogy, Genealogy Trails History Group, at http://genealogytrails.com/mich/ionia/history_ioniatwp.html, Henry owned 200 acres in Ionia Township in which he was a resident taxpayer in 1838. Ionia Township was adjacent to Easton Township to the east. Some of this acreage might have been later purchased and owned by Henry's son Tobias Haynor in 1856 and 1857 since property records in those years, show that Tobias had purchased land.

Although it's possible that Henry may have lost much of this land, if not all of the 200 acres during the Panic of 1837. At: https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Panic_of_1837, shows a financial crisis in the United States that touched off a major recession that lasted until the mid-1840s. Banks collapsed, businesses failed, prices declined, and thousands of workers lost their jobs. It is known that Michigan defaulted July 1841 and that loans had to be fully repaid and that bondholders got back only 30 cents on the dollar, as shown at econweb.rutgers.edu/ewhite/FinMonHist344/Lecture%207.ppt. It's very possible that Henry either lost his 200 acres in Ionia Township, through some sort of loan recall by a bank, or that his property value so declined, he was only able to secure a reduced price for it and used this money to buy 40 acres in Section 10 in Easton Township at NE¼SW¼ in 1841 to build his home.

In 1841 Henry bought and cleared 40 acres of heavily timbered farmland from Erastus Yeomans in Section 10, Easton Township, Ionia County, MI, near the junction of Bellamy and Dildine Roads to the east. In 1844, it shows at http://genealogytrails.com/mich/ionia/history_eastontwp.html where Henry owned 40 acres in Easton Township and was a resident taxpayer.

Records also at http://genealogytrails.com/mich/ionia/history_ioniatwp.html, March 30, 1839, show that Henry served as a "chainman" for Ionia Township Highway Commission and as a juror in Ionia County. Henry received $2.00 as a chainman. For what length of time, Henry received this $2.00 fee is unknown. One reason Henry might have been selected as a chainman was because of his past experiences back in Saratoga County, NY. He was either in a business partnership with his father-in-law, Albert Clements or Albert was a land co-owner with Henry or both. In an 1832 Town of Saratoga Tax List at <http://www.saratoganygenweb.com/1832Saratoga.htm>, it shows a listing for Clements/Hayner owning together in real property 166 acres, valued at $1,485, showing a tax liability of $4.78. Very likely this Clements/Hayner listing is Albert Clements, Henry Haynor's father-in-law and Henry Haynor, misspelled as Hayner. Even though the Haynor surname is listed as Hayner, it is believed that this is just a misspelling since in the 1830 U.S. Census in Saratoga County, NY, also reports Henry's surname as Hayner, rather than the correct spelling of Haynor. The 1840 Census also misspells the Haynor surname as Hayner, although in 1850, 1860, 1870 and 1880 U.S. Censuses have the correct spelling as Haynor.

In the The Haynor Family from U.S. Immigration to 1957 Narrative, it describes Albert Clements "learned surveying and civil engineering from George Palmer of Stillwater, New York and laid out the first streets and made out the plots for the Village of Schuylerville, NY." Henry may have been a surveyor along with his father-in-law. Why Henry decided to leave Saratoga, NY for Michigan, when co-owning 166 acres in Saratoga County is unknown. But he likely sold his land interest to Albert Clements in order to use this money to fund his family's trip to Michigan, as well as help finance his purchase of land in Ionia County, MI.

Henry reportedly had a stocky build. Roxy had blue eyes, dimples, and hair the color of honey. The couple had five children, listed below. Roxy Clements Haynor died at age 36 from blood poisoning contracted while nursing a neighbor who gave birth. Henry lived for another forty-five years, remarried, and had two additional daughters.

Children of Henry H. Haynor and Roxy Clements are:

- (C2-1.1) Tobias Clements Haynor, b. 9 December 1827, Schuylerville or Victory Mills, Saratoga County, NY, d. 27 December 1917, Muskegon, MI.
- (C2-1.2) Isaac Benjamin Haynor, b. 6 February 1831 Victory Mills, Saratoga County, NY, d. 18 June 1913, Easton Township, Ionia County, MI.
- (C2-1.3) Catharine Jane Haynor, b. 16 May 1834 Saratoga Springs, Saratoga County, NY, d. 1 December 1922, Muir, MI.
- (C2-1.4) Charles Henry Haynor, b. abt. 1837, likely in NY State, since he was reported as being 12 years old and born in NY State, as shown in the 1850 U.S. Census. He died 10 September 1916, as reported in The Mountain Echo newspaper, Yellville, Arkansas.
- (C2-1.5) Charlotte Theresa (Teresa) Haynor, b. abt. 1839, Easton Township, Ionia County, MI, d. abt. 1870, Green Oak, Livingston County, MI.

Children of Henry H. Haynor and Matilda (Burner) Ward are:

- (C2-1.6) Roxy Hellen (Nellie) Haynor, b. 4 January 1856, Ionia County, MI, d. 26 January 1911, Detroit, Wayne Co., MI; buried Eagle, Clinton County, MI.
- (C2-1.7) Lelah May Haynor, b. 1873, d. 5 November 1874 and is buried in Saranac, MI.

Generation 2

(C2-1.1) TOBIAS CLEMENTS HAYNOR, (Henry H. Haynor), b. 9 December 1827 in Schuylerville or Victory Mills, Saratoga County, NY, d. 27 December 1917 in Muskegon, MI at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Alfred P. Brown (Amy Louise Haynor). He enlisted in the Civil War in the 12th Regiment Illinois Infantry while working in Illinois plowing prairie grass. Tobias served 4+ years, returned to Easton Twp., Ionia Co., MI. He married (1) Bethamia E. Lapp, 19 September 1868, b. 24 March 1844 in Windsor, Essex Co., Ontario, Canada, d. 25 December 1895 Oceana County, MI.

Children of Tobias Haynor and Bethamia Lapp are:

- (C3-1.1.1) Eber Lorenzo Haynor, b. 6 February 1867, d. 8 May 1957, Hart, MI.
- (C3-1.1.2) Amy Louise Haynor, b. 15 Nov. 1869, Ionia County, d. June 26, 1959.
- (C3-1.1.3) Chester Henry Haynor, b. 13 July 1873, d. 12 Nov 1911.
- (C3-1.1.4) Myrtle Lilly Haynor, b. 5 Sept. 1883, d. 5 November 1967, Brooksville, FL.

After the death of Bethamia Lapp in 1895, Tobias, age 73, m. (2) Sibble Isabelle (Deuel) Blodget, age 67 on 10 November 1902. After the death of Sibble Isabelle (Deuel) (Blodget) Haynor in 1905, Tobias, age 80, m. (3) Rachel (Bowers) Spoon, 13 September 1909, age 69; b. 26 Feb. 1839, as shown on her death record under the name Rachel Hanor, likely born in Farmington, Oakland County, MI, d. 13 September 1921 in Leavitt Township, Oceana County, MI.

(C2-1.2) ISAAC BENJAMIN HAYNOR, (Henry H. Haynor) b. 6 February 1831, Victory Mills, Saratoga Co., NY, d. 18 June 1913, Easton Twp., Ionia County, MI. He married (1) Nancy Bolton (Boulton), 3 April 1859 in Ionia County, MI. Nancy L. Bolton (Boulton), b. 4 Nov. 1835, Lenawee County, MI, d. 12 Feb. 1892, Easton Twp., Ionia County, MI. Nancy was the daughter of William J. Bolton (Boulton) (b. England) and Nancy Kelly, b. 16 May 1800, St. Albans, Franklin Co., Vermont, d. 29 May 1856, Palmyra, Lenawee Co, MI. Isaac Haynor served as School Moderator of his district and for nine years was the school's first Director when the school was organized as Grove School. The school was eventually renamed Haynor School in 1938 and still stands and is used as a K-5 grade elementary school, celebrating it's 150-anniversary in 2016. Isaac Haynor also served as Treasurer of Easton Township and as a Justice of the Peace.

Children of Isaac Haynor and Nancy Bolton are:

- (C3-1.2.1) Albert Clements Haynor, b. 29 August 1860, Easton Township, Ionia County, MI, d. 11 October 1939, Easton Township, Ionia County, MI.
- (C3-1.2.2) Elmore L. Haynor, b. 30 December 1867, Easton Township, Ionia County, MI, d. 17 January 1901, Fort Scott, KS.
- (G3-1.2.3) Leroy J. Haynor, b. 31 December 1872, Easton Township, Ionia County, MI, d. 23 December 1966, St. Louis, MI.
- (G3-1.2.4) Blanche Orvilla Haynor, b. 21 May 1878, d. 15 August 1967.

Note: After the death of Nancy Bolton, Isaac married Florentine Louise (Neuman) Miske, 27 May 1894. Florentine b. 20 November 1855, Gambitz, Germany, d. 24 May 1941. She was the daughter of Carl Neuman and Louisa Schultz. They were divorced in 1901.

(C2-1.3) CATHERINE JANE HAYNOR (Henry H. Haynor), b. 16 May 1834, Saratoga Springs, Saratoga County, NY, died at the home of her son, Frank Wallace Tillison, Muir, MI, 1 December 1922, aged 88 years, six months and 14 days old. She married Charles Henry Tillison, 4 July 1853, son of Charles Tillison and Lucy Clark, b. 13 December 1832, d. 11 March 1912, Lyons, Ionia County, MI. Charles was a Civil War veteran from Michigan, Regiment 21, Company K. He and Catherine settled on a farm in Easton, which home eventually came to be owned by Albert C. Haynor (C3-2.2.1). They later moved to Lyons, MI.

Children of Catherine Haynor and Charles Tillison are:

- (C3-1.3.1) Alida E. or Lydia E. Tillison, b. 1857 reportedly in NY State, d. 1870.
- (C3-1.3.2) Ora Belle Tillison, b. 1862, Orleans Township Ionia Co., MI, d. 24 May 1895, Lyons, Ionia Co., MI.
- (C3-1.3.3) Frank Wallace Tillison, b. 8 December 1864, Easton Twp., Ionia County, MI, d. 26 Sept. 1932 in Muir, Ionia County, MI.
- (C3-1.3.4) Nelson Eugene Tillison, b. 5 June 1873 in Easton Twp., Ionia County, MI, d. 1950, Gobles, Bloomingdale Township, Van Buren County, MI.

(C2-1.4) CHARLES HENRY HAYNOR (Henry H. Haynor) was believed born December 1837/38. Some descendants thought that Charles could have been born in either NY, PA, or MI. Because of this confusion, it's possible that Charles was born as Henry, Roxy and family were traveling from NY State to Michigan or as the family stayed temporarily in Washtenaw County, MI on their travels to the Ionia area. Records though show that Charles was 12 years old and was born in NY State, according to the Ionia, MI 1850 Federal Census Index at: <http://www.usgwcensus.org/cenfiles/mi/ionia/1850/indx-h.txt>. As a young man, Charles went to California, then to Colorado to prospect in silver mines; married, raised a family in the West.

Charles died 10 September 1916, as reported in The Mountain Echo newspaper, Yellville, Arkansas. The newspaper article states, "Mr. C. H. Haynor, who, with his son, came from Wonder, Nevada, about three months ago, died last Sunday at the Broome County mine and was buried Monday at the Monarch cemetery (his grave was actually found at the Keesee Cemetery in Marion Co., Arkansas). Mr. Haynor was far advanced in years and had been suffering for some time with dropsy and other old age afflictions, and came to this county in the hope that the climate would prove beneficial to his health. The bereaved son has the sympathy of his many friends in his bereavement.” It is believed that Charles’ son William Lawrence Haynor, was the son being referenced in The Mountain Echo newspaper, since William’s WWI Draft registration cards of persons from Elko, Esmeraldo, Eureka, and Humboldt Counties, Nevada, it says that he was 30 years old at enlistment, which would have been in about 1917. It says also that William was a miner working for National Mines, National, Nevada. Of Charles two sons, William was the only one known to have lived in Nevada.

Charles married Dorcas A. (Annie) Killen, 30 October 1882 in Ouray Co., Colorado. A death certificate shows that Annie was born 15 December 1858, in Missouri and died 9 February 1914 of “organic heart disease” in Olathe, Montrose Co., Colorado. She was the daughter of Henry Clinton Killen, b. 4 May 1835, Hardin, Kentucky, d. 21 September 1902, Montrose, Colorado and Margaret A. or E. Noland, b. November 1835, Missouri, d. after 1910, Colorado.

Children of Charles Haynor and Dorcas Killen are:

- (C3-1.4.1) Albert Henry Haynor, b. 28 October 1884, Delta, CO, d. 25 May 1948, Butte, CA.
- (C3-1.4.2) William Lawrence Haynor, b. 7 February 1887, Breckenridge, Summit Co. CO., d. 19 October, 1967, Yuba City, Sutter County, CA.

(C2-1.5) CHARLOTTE THERESA HAYNOR (Teresa) (Henry H. Haynor), b. abt. 1839, Easton Township, Ionia County, MI, d. abt. 1870, Green Oak, Livingston County, MI. Married 13 March 1859 to Moses Henry Clements, b. abt. 1839, Washtenaw County, MI, d. 7 September 1899, Green Oak, Livingston County, MI. Moses was the son of John Peter Clements, b. Rumbout, Dutchess County, NY and Tina Ferris, b. New York State. Moses father, John Peter Clements, is likely the uncle of Roxy (Clements) Haynor.

Children of Charlotte Haynor and Moses Clements are:

- (C3-1.5.1) Clara E. Clements, b. 2 July 1860, Easton Township, Ionia Co., MI, d. 2 October 1879 at home of Typhoid Fever at the age of 19, Wyandotte, Wayne County, MI.
- (C3-1.5.2) Nellie E. Clements, b. April 1862 Easton Township, Ionia Co., MI, d. 1959, Washtenaw County, MI.
- (C3-1.5.3) Albert Norman Clements, b. 25 December 1869, d. 24 March 1956, Butte Co., CA.

(C2-1.6) ROXEY (ROXIE) HELLEN HAYNOR or ROXIE ELINOR HAYNOR, nicknamed NELLIE (Henry H. Haynor), b. 4 January 1856, Ionia County, MI, d. 26 January 1911, Detroit and is buried in Eagle, Clinton County, MI; m. 30 April 1876 to John Blough, b. 12 August 1850, Stark County, Ohio, d. 19 January 1916, Eagle, Clinton County, MI. John Blough was the son of Jesse D. Blough (Blaugh), b. abt. 1821, d. 3 March 1888 and Catherine Kaufman, b. abt. 1827, d. 11 December 1874.

Note: The surname Blough might be found as “Blaugh,” although Blough is clearly listed on John’s headstone. Jesse’s headstone spelling is unreadable. Catherine (Kaufman) Blough’s headstone is inscribed as Blaugh, although at <https://www.findagrave.com/memorial/23771693/catharine-blaugh>, it says “The people buried around her, their last name is spelled BLOUGH.” John, Roxey, Jesse and Catherine are all buried at North Eagle Cemetery, Eagle, Clinton County, Michigan. Only Catherine is listed as Blaugh, from what is readable. It’s believed the surname spelling was Blauch in Switzerland in the early 1700s, before the family emigrated to America, likely first to Pennsylvania.

Child of Roxy Haynor and John Blough is:
(C3-1.6.1) John Blough, b. 1876.

(C2-1.7) LELAH M. HAYNOR (Henry H. Haynor), b. 1873, d. 5 November 1874.

Generation 3

(C3-1.1.1) EBER LORENZO HAYNOR (Tobias C. Haynor, Henry H. Haynor), b. 6 February 1867, d. 8 May 1957, Hart, MI. Eber Haynor is buried in the Elbridge Cemetery; m. 12 August 1896 to Agnes Marion Hatch, Hesperia, MI, b. 17 May 1878 in Oceana, County, MI, d. 15 April 1967, Hart, MI, daughter of Robert W. Hatch and Martha Shaw, both born in Elbridge Twp., Oceana Co., MI.

Children of Eber Haynor and Agnes Hatch are:

(C4-1.1.1.1) Francis (Frank) Marion Haynor, b. 26 December 1896, d. 5 July 1984.
(C4-1.1.1.2) Alice Marie Haynor, b. 25 Dec 1898, d. 17 November 1992.
(C4-1.1.1.3) Iva Belle Haynor, b. 29 June 1901, d. September 1979.
(C4-1.1.1.4) Florence Bethamia Haynor, b. 23 September 1910, d. 25 January 1989.
(C4-1.1.1.5) Albert Clements Haynor, b. 6 April 1914, d. 5 May 1965.

(C3-1.1.2) AMY LOUISE HAYNOR (Tobias C. Haynor, Henry H. Haynor), b. 15 Nov. 1869 in Easton Twp., Ionia County, MI, d. 26 June 1959; m. Alfred Phineas Brown, 1 January 1891, son of Phineas Brown and Nancy Poe. Alfred, b. 26 March 1869, d. 19 March 1944, Holton, Muskegon Co., MI. Amy and Alfred are buried at the West Hesperia Cemetery, Hesperia, Oceana County, MI.

Children of Amy Haynor and Alfred Brown are:

(G4-1.1.2.1) Irvin Eber Brown, b. 25 March 1892, d. 20 October 1953.
(G4-1.1.2.2) Alcie Bethamy Brown, b. 10 November 1898, Hesperia, MI, d. 1977.

(G4-1.1.2.4) Lyle A. Brown, b. 27 Sept. 1910, Fremont, MI, d. 13 Sept. 1982, Shelby, MI.

(C3-1.1.3) CHESTER HENRY HAYNOR (Tobias C. Haynor, Henry H. Haynor), b. 13 July 1873 Greenwood, Oceana Co., MI, d. 12 November 1911 Denver Twp., Newaygo Co., MI; m. Ella Williams, 28 May 1899 in Greenwood, Oceana Co., MI, b. 10 September 1875, d. 23 November 1910, daughter of Lemuel Williams and Eunice Rosetha Hall.

Children of Chester Haynor and Ella Williams are:

(C4-1.1.3.1) Vera Ellen Haynor, b. 29 January 1900, d. of TB, 15 November 1917, Ferry, Oceana Co., MI.
(C4-1.1.3.2) Laura Myrtle Haynor, b. 30 October 1902, d. 17 July 1970, Fremont, MI.
(C4-1.1.3.3) Charles Willmont Haynor, b. 31 July 1905, d. 21 October 1991.
(C4-1.1.3.4) Thelma Pearl Haynor, b. 27 October 1907, d. 23 Dec. 1985.

(C3-1.1.4) MYRTLE LILLY HAYNOR (Tobias C. Haynor, Henry H. Haynor), b. 5 September 1883, Brunswick, MI, d. 5 September 1967, Brooksville, FL; m. Searight Arcemos Collier, 16 Nov. 1904, b. 28 August 1886, Ionia County, MI, d. 19 June 1952, Sparr, Marion County, IN, son of John Collier and Caroline Swaddner (Swaydner).

Child of Myrtle Haynor and Searight Collier is:

(C4-1.1.4.1) Winona May Collier, b. 19 February 1908, Belding, MI, d. 22 December 1999, Brooksville, FL.

(C3-1.2.1) ALBERT CLEMENTS HAYNOR (Isaac B. Haynor, Henry H. Haynor), b. 29 August 1860, Easton Township, Ionia Co., MI, d. 11 October 1939, Easton Township, Ionia Co., MI of pneumonia; m. 6 April 1887 to Mary Elizabeth (Libbie) Conner, b. 29 May 1868, d. 8 August 1951, Easton Township, Ionia Co., MI, daughter of William Hiram Connor and Mary Hulin. Both Albert and Libbie are buried in the Easton Township Cemetery, Ionia County, MI.

Children of Albert Haynor and Mary Elizabeth Conner are:

(C4-1.2.1.1) Lloyd Elton Haynor, b. 10 April 1888, d. 12 September 1945.
(C4-1.2.1.2) William Roy Haynor, b. 28 October 1889, d. 24 August 1961.
